Dance music replaces lecturer's voice at auditorium Tea Dance

Dance music replaced the rumble of the lecturer's voice in the auditorium from 4 to 6 Thursday afternoon.

The occasion was the Student Council's annual Tea Dance to greet freshmen students. A court showed 75 guests present at the height of activity.

Red and white streamers from balcony to balcony gave the "fine example of interior Georgian architecture" a festive air. Hearts on the walls and stage curtain carried out the Valentine theme.

Music was provided by Lambert Bartek's orchestra, a five piece combo. Coming in on the vocals was Faye Nieman, clarinetist.

Punch, cake and cookies were featured. Servers were Miss Gertrude Kincaide, head of the Foreign Languages Department; Miss Margaret Killian, head of the Home Economics Department; and council members Dolores Hughes, Pat Hasch, Donna Roessig, Marge Hunt, June Williams and Marge Mahoney.

New members added to University Choir

Nine new members have been added to the University Choir this semester.

Richard E. Duncan, director of the choir, announced the following additions to the organization. Sopranos: Maridell Myers, Ronna Rimmerman, Jeanette Snyder, Mary Baker; altos: Marion Keller and Ann Weinhardt.

Other newcomers are: tenor William Farmer and baritone William Kellogg and Ronald Geasland.

Captain Fielding will appear at 3 campus meetings

Captain Michael Fielding, military and political analyst, will be on the OU campus tomorrow to speak before the Institute on World Affairs and a student convocation.

He will stay over for a Thursday appearance at the Coffee Hour.

All classes will be dismissed at 9:30 tomorrow morning for the convocation, where Fielding will discuss "What Next on Russia." Classes will resume at 10:20.

Tomorrow evening at the Institute on World Affairs he will speak on "India the Enigma." The institute meets at 7:30 in the faculty clubroom.

Fielding has been a soldier, journalist, radio commentator and speaker. He recently returned from Europe where he succeeded in contacting one of Europe's mystery men, Griaia Bessendovsky, former Soviet ambassador to Tokyo and Warsaw who broke with Stalin.

With Bessendovsky, Fielding discussed the inside story of the Tito-Moscow feud, as well as the events which led up to it. This was followed by a personal penetration of the Iron Curtain. To do this, Fielding defied a Belgrade ban against him and crossed the Yugoslav frontier without passport or visa.

Coffee Hour to air Russia

The Coffee Hour will have a guest speaker Thursday afternoon at 3. He is Captain Michael Fielding, military and political analyst.

"This will be the students' opportunity to question Captain Fielding on his speech 'What Next on Russia,'" said Wilfred Payne, faculty sponsor. Fielding's speech will be given at Wednesday's convocation.

A student panel composed of Fred Scheuermann, Bill Spickerman and Chairman Lloyd Metheny will lead off in the discussion.

Group Dynamics ok's constitution and dues

A constitution was approved by the Association for the Study of Group Dynamics at its noon meeting Tuesday of the month.

Provisions adopted include 50 cent dues per semester and regular meetings every second and fourth Thursday.

"Attack the Problem," a film, was shown which stressed the importance of a supervisor having his subordinates accept his ideas as their own.

Members will meet at noon today in room 100 to have their Tomahawk picture taken.

Gorman slates speech

Dr. Frank Gorman, head of the Education Department, is scheduled to speak tomorrow at the PTA meeting of School District 38 at Mount View School. His subject will be "The Three R's of Education—Rectitude, Romance and Realism."

Attention seniors

Bettie Blissard, Tomahawk staff member, reports that many seniors have not filled out activity cards for the yearbook.

She asks that the following seniors report to the Tomahawk Office, room 306A, immediately:

Winston Bedford, R. A. Benson, R. W. Brooke, Boyd Corder, Phillis Earp, C. D. Freed, Milton Grobeck, Milton Gibson, Dale Harkert, Dorothy Johnson, Clyde Ketelsen, Ralph Leeder, Phoebe Low, Valeria McCaw, Edwin McMorro, Ira Miller, Albert Nevotti, Leonard Oliver, Bob Parsons, Howard Paskach.

Gerald Spitzberger, Robert Stub, Robert Ticknor, Leonard Timm, John Vitamvas, Charles Barker, Tetsu Endo, Nancy Ferguson, Bill Gerbrach, John C. Hall, Carolyn Lwellyn, Alice McEliece, Joseph Mangiamelle, Paul Mann, Gerald Meyers, Ray Nelson, Frances Robb, John Rosenberg and Elaine Schuetz.

Convo-pep rally to be Feb. 24

Who will win the $100. Which fight song will be chosen?

These questions will be answered at the joint convocation-pep rally on Feb. 24 when five fight songs will be presented to the student body for final judgement.

Of the songs presented, students will choose the best two by applause. The top song will be selected by direct balloting of student votes at the program.

Sponsors of the program have promised many surprises for the occasion, and advanced information indicates it will be as "wild" as the Tom Tom Revue.

Balloting will be under the direction of the Student Council. The Warriors and Feathers, student pep organizations, will provide cheerleading and decorations to stir enthusiasm for the Omaha U-Creighton basketball game scheduled for that evening.

The Alumni Association and The Gateway, co-sponsors of the contest, contributed the $100 prize.

First motion picture convo sheduled today

Time was when school authorities objected to students taking a break from classes to go to the movies.

But here's a note on the changing times. Beginning today, the Convocations Committee is showing a series of films as part of the regular convocation schedule.

And they aren't forgetting the selected short subjects either.

"Top Hat" is the main attraction on tap for this afternoon at 1 in the auditorium. Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Edward E. Horton, and Helen Broderick are the stars, and Irving Berlin tunes are featured.

Beauty pageant has 27 entrants

Feb. 25 is the date, 2 p.m. is the time and the auditorium is the place for the Tomahawk Beauty Contest.

Pickin Omaha U's beauty queen and her two ladies in waiting will be the judges' objectives, and the contestants will be chosen on the basis of personality, poise, and appearance and charm.

The decision rests with the three judges, bandleader Tex Beneke, Mrs. Glenn Cunningham, wife of Omaha's mayor, and Harry Bruner, Coca-Cola sales manager.

Any girl enrolled at the university is eligible for entrance in the contest. Names should be submitted in the Tomahawk office, room 306A, no later than Feb. 22.

The following 27 names had been received by Saturday afternoon.

Nadyne Alley, Muriel Beebe, Doris Bennett, Bettie Blissard, Aileen Carver, June Conrad, Sue Gilmore, Betsy Green, Robin Hallquist, Doris Hanson, Barbara Hawness, Doris Henderson.

ured. A Sportscope, "Flying Feathers," will be the short subject.

Two weeks from today a French movie will be shown. It is "Crime et Chatiment" or "Crime and Punishment," a transposition of Dostoyevsky's psychoanalytical novel into film form.

An Academy Award winner, "The Informer," will hit the screen on March 16. It tells the story of the effect of a great betrayal on a man. Stars are Victor McLaglen, Heather Angel and Preston Foster. The short subject is "Snow Fun."

Even Orson Wells will make an appearance in the Omaha U Cinema Series. His furor-creating first film, "Citizen Kane," is set for March 29. Joseph Cotten and Ruth Warwick are other stars in the movie which introduced several new movie techniques. "Rolling Rhythm" is the short subject.

Movies were selected on the basis of their popularity when first presented, their artistic quality and their degree of student appeal.

Popcorn will not be sold in the lobby.

OU fame will be riding UP's rails

Omaha University's fame will be riding the rails.

A kodachrome picture of the university taken last summer will be featured on the menus used by the Union Pacific Railroad in their dining cars.

Only two other pictures of non-state supported universities will be used. They are the University of Kansas and the College of Idaho.

The series of pictures includes the state universities of the twelve western states served by the railroad.

A biography of Omaha University since its founding accompanies the picture on the menu. It stresses the university's ten-year building program.

Among the other universities pictured are University of California at Los Angeles, University of Southern California, University of Colorado and University of Oregon.

Dates announced for spring play

Presentation dates for the spring play, "The Late George Apley," have been decided on, according to Mrs. Frances Key, sponsor of the activity. The play will be produced March 31 and April 1.

Tryouts for the sixteen parts in the show were held last Friday and yesterday. The cast is to be announced in a few days.

Leading characters are George Apley, a middle-aged, tradition-worshipping Bostonian whose life revolves around a multitude of small details, and his wife, Catherine, no less turned from the Back Bay mold, but still able to appreciate the viewpoint of the younger generation.

His two children are John, a Harvard student, who may be very like George in a few years, and Eleanor, an attractive and spirited girl who has been reading Freud.

Town, Gown to hear Rev. Smith tomorrow

"Religious Concepts, Ancient and Modern," a speech by the Rev. Dr. W. P. Smith, will be given at the Town and Gown meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the faculty clubroom.

The Rev. Dr. Smith is the head of one of the largest Presbyterian churches in the United States.

New Engineers' Club tours Telephone Company

These students were among the 25 members of the club who toured the company Thursday evening. Sponsor Cheryl H. Prewitt, assistant professor of engineering, accompanied them. This was the second of a series of tours planned for the group. Roy Pratt of the telephone company arranged the trip.

The club, which is reorganizing, elected Al Stone, president; Kenneth Dyas, vice president; Gene Andrews, secretary; and Duane Olberts, treasurer.

President Stone extended a welcome to any person interested in joining.

Adult Testing Explained

Dr. Claude Thompson, professor of industrial psychology at OU, will tell Monday night how the Adult Testing Division of the university is serving business and industrial interests of Omaha.

The program is scheduled for 9:30.

Any coed would rather be the legs of the class than the head of the class.

Target: student news . . .

The Gateway's policy for the semester is a simple one—to print more student news.

Our aim is to jam, crowd and push into the pages of this newspaper all the news possible which depicts the achievements and actions of Omaha U students either as individuals or as members of a group or organization.

This policy is not new. It has always been the job of The Gateway to publish the news of students and their campus activities.

Recently, however, our ears have burned with the criticism, "You don't print enough student news. There is too much space devoted to the administration, faculty and to events that have little interest to the average student."

We say that all news concerning the university, its departments, personnel and events are important. But if there seems to be an over balance of space given to these factions in comparison to student news, from time to time, then we answer, "Guilty"—but only mildly so.

Putting out eight or more pages a week takes lots of copy. It takes time, too. Only a limited number of hours exists between deadlines to search out news, write, edit and get it into print.

The staff of this newspaper must squeeze all this work among classes, studies and outside jobs. So that we can meet all our obligations we must ferret out news items from those sources known to have stories.

Since we don't always know what student has a news story, and to ask all 2000 of you is out of the question, we say this:

If The Gateway is to become a real voice or organ of the college student of this school, as we most certainly believe it should be, then we must enlist the cooperation of all our readers.

Aid us in reporting student news by giving us tips as to where we can find that news.

If you or your classmate has won any distinction, honor—anything newsworthy—either in or out of school, tell us about it. Then we can go on from there.

We believe strongly that names make news—student names make a student newspaper.

Editor in Chief.

OU Symphony to present concert

The Omaha University Symphony Orchestra will present a concert at Joslyn Memorial at 2:30 in the afternoon Feb. 20.

Three numbers by early American composers, "Chorale for Brass Instruments" by Bach, "Eighth Symphony, first movement by Beethoven," and "Quartette for Woodwind Instruments" by Mozart are opening selections for the concert.

Virginia Larsen will be violin soloist for "La Folia" by Corelli. The concert will close with the presentation of "Symphony Minature" by George McKay.

Students are active in 'Inspector' play

Several O U students have a hand in the new production at the Community Playhouse, "The Inspector Calls", scheduled to run from Febr. 15 to 28.

Douglas White will be on stage as Eric, the son of the Birling family which resides in an English industrial city in the year 1913.

Chuck Farnham will be assistant stage manager and electrician. Anne Connely will be technician, and Mildred Mann will also be an electrician.

Muir gets orchid, picture in Herald

When a girl gets an orchid, she will usually tell why.

Homecoming Princess Roberta Muir was wearing one Friday but was very silent about the occasion. Curious students ventured all kinds of guesses ranging from engagement to elopement.

She was pictured in a Valentine photo on the front page of Friday's Evening World-Herald. Bert said she was asked to keep the purpose of the flower a secret until the picture appeared.

The orchid was presented by the Bradley Florist Shop, Thirty-Fifth and Dodge, in conjunction with the sale of flowers as Valentine gifts by Flowers Unlimited, an organization of Omaha florists.

Rosenthal is speaker at Trade Institute

"Organizing for Import" will be discussed at the Thursday evening meeting of the Institute on World Trade. The speaker will be Morris S. Rosenthal, president of the Stein, Hall and Co., New York.

Rosenthal is president of the National Council of American Importers, Inc., and chairman of the Foreign Trade Terms Committee of the U. S. Associates of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Interfrat Council decides rush plans

Fraternity Rush Week plans were laid at an Interfraternity Council meeting Thursday.

Registration of prospective pledges will be held tomorrow from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., the council decided. A table will be set up in the first floor hall where everyone wishing to join a frat must sign up.

Future frat men must then fill out fraternity preference cards in the dean of students office on Monday, Feb. 28, by 1 p.m.

In the Council's election of officers, Curt Siemers was made vice-president and Sid Nearenberg, secretary. President Bill Fear and Treasurer Nick Caporale had been elected at a previous meeting.

Ice Indians topple from loop lead; Falstaff six administers 3-1 lesson

Amateur Hockey Standings

Falstaff	6	3	0	12
Omaha U.	3	1	1	11
Russells	4	5	0	8
Harveys	2	6	1	5

A hard-skating Falstaff crew ended OU's short sojourn in the top spot of the Amateur Hockey League Saturday night by downing the Indians 3-1.

Goalie Dick Kurtz shut out the Indian skaters for two periods before Bill Traynor beat him on and unassisted effort early in the final period.

The Brewers hopped to a quick 1-0 lead on Bob Remm's solo performance at 4:33 of the opening period. Remm outskated the Omaha back-icemen and beat Whitey Jones handily.

OU turned on the heat in the second period with some hard skating and improved passing, but Kurtz was equal to every effort.

The Indian's tight defense that period gave the Brewers only three shots, but one of them, a neat effort by McCormick, slipped by Jones for a score.

Most of the game's action was packed in the third period after Traynor's goal cut the gap to one point, but O'Neil took passes from Remm and McCormick and beat Jones at 11:12 to ice the game for the Falstaffers.

Farner slips by Sorenson, paces Papoose scorers

Course introduced in home decorating art

With a new course in Home Decoration, the university opens the door to homemakers interested in making their houses more beautiful and hospitable.

The Tuesday night class, which began on Feb. 8, teaches means of making a home more livable in spite of limited means.

The basic principles of good decorating will be stressed with practical suggestions.

Among topics discussed are making the home up to date by superficial changes, making wise purchases of basic furnishings, recognizing good design and knowing where to economize.

Other subjects to be taken up are studies of the details that go to make up an attractive home such as color schemes, textiles, mixing period styles and using what you have.

Speaker for business frat to be selected

A speaker on investments and security transactions will be selected for the Feb. 22 meeting of Delta Beta Phi.

The business fraternity also discussed plans for a group tour of a local industry at a meeting Thursday.

Sam Leftwich was made chairman of the Ma-ie Day planning committee.

A good line cuts down a girl's resistance.

Big "O" club turnout

"Maybe we should have a picture taken at every meeting," said "O" Club President Clark Fobes when many more members showed up for the Tomahawk picture than had attended recent meetings.

Fobes also said that he hopes the same number of members will be able to attend the next meeting on the first Monday in March.

Pongers—sign-up now

All table tennis players wishing to enter the OU intramural tournament should sign the lists posted in the men's locker room and in the Pow Wow Inn.

Intramural Director Ernie Gorr said that no entries will be accepted after Thursday, Feb. 17.

Tourneys in both doubles and singles will be held.

total of 74 points in 11 encounters this year. Sorenson has a 72 point total in nine games.

Joe Cupich and Al Carrillo pace the young Indians from the free throw standpoint. Cupich has dropped in 10 of 17 charity tosses for .588 average while the stocky Carrillo has potted 16 of 28 for a .571.

Bob Stedman still tops the young Indians in the personal foul column even though he moved up to the varsity in mid-season. The hustling center has 21 miscues chalked against him followed by Sorenson with 19.

Coach Charles Brock's lads have scored on an average of 45.2 points each tilt thus far and have racked up a total of 498 points to their opponents' 342.

They also boast a .452 average for free throws, having cashed in on 104 of 230 gift tosses. Leading Papoose scorers:

Travel-education trips are offered

A chance to ski in Switzerland, conga in Latin America or walk down the Champs Elysees in Paris is open to college students.

Student trips to Europe and Latin America can be made for $520. The four week tour is the first step of the Cooperative Bureau for Teachers to promote travel as an important part of education. The bureau's plan reduces fees of independent travel for students, teachers and social workers.

The travelers may go by plane directly to Geneva from Bradley Air Field, Conn., on 55 passenger Transoceanic DC-4's. Those who would rather travel by boat will go in reconvered troop carriers.

Planes from Bradley Field will leave June 18th and July 5th, 8th and 9th according to Dr. A. Dombrowski, of the Department of Business Research at the University of Nebraska.

He stresses that those interested should make early reservations. Arrangements may be made by writing to the Laborde Travel Service, Inc., 1776 Broadway, New York, 19, New York.

A $50 deposit is required on all reservations. Payments may be made in two installments, on April 1 and May 1.

Phi Sigs upset Packers, 34-24; Outstate romps

Phi Sigs' exploding first half assault handed the South High Packers their worst defeat of the season last Wednesday in an intramural basketball game.

When the smoke cleared, South was on the short end of a 34-24 score.

The undefeated Phi Sig quintet roared to an 18-2 first quarter lead and were never behind.

Husky Bob Hibbeler and Pee Wee Schultz were the standouts. Hibbeler controlled the rebounds off both backboards while Schultz set up all the offensive plays for the well drilled frat men.

The Packers, after trailing 24-11 at half time, closed the gap to 28-24 in a determined drive but two quick Phi Sig baskets iced the game for the winners.

Newell Breyfogle continued to be the hottest point maker in intramural play. Outstate's stocky forward scored 18 points for the out-of-town boys in their 31-23 win over a vastly improved Delta Beta five.

Delta Beta was in the wild fray all the way and Outstate, minus Breyfogle, might have fallen to the scrapping fraternity squad.

Loss of big Chet Stefanski via the foul route hurt the Delta boys' chances for victory.

Point lead owned by Oberg; Flecky holds second spot

Guy "Two Point" Oberg owns a firm grasp on the Omaha University varsity basketball scoring leadership.

The former North High cage star has garnered 170 points in the 16 games played so far this season by Coach Don Pflasterer's squad. Guy has 64 field goals and 42 free throws to his credit.

Guard Ernie Flecky has been climbing steadily in the point race since the second Midland encounter and now has 119. Both Oberg and Flecky have slackened their pace of late.

Bad Man Title Guy also has the team's bad man title. He has committed 55 fouls to lead the Red and Black in that department. Flecky is also in second place in this race with 50 fouls.

The best free throws made percentage is held by diminutive Donny Fitch. The scrappy forward has potted 26 of 42 gift shots for a .619 percentage.

Joe Arenas is second, having made 21 of 35 free shots.

Coach Pflasterer's Indians have scored a 16 game total of 824 points for an average of 51.5 while their opponents have 904 points to their credit for an average of 56.5.

The team as a whole has made 194 of 374 free throws for a 518 percentage. The OU opponents have made 242 of 463 for a 522 percentage. The leading scorers:

Maryville -- barrier to OU five tonight

Baseball candidates urged to sign-up soon

Though the temperature still hovers around the zero mark and snow flurries fill the air, baseball is just around the corner.

Coach Virg Yelkin has already placed a roster in the men's locker room and all varsity baseball candidates are urged to sign.

In next Friday's issue of The Gateway an announcement will be made as to when the first baseball meeting will be held.

Two colleges in this area may decide to have baseball teams this season. If they do, the Indian schedule may be heavier this year. The schools who are taking baseball activities into consideration are Nebraska Wesleyan and Doane.

Coach Yelkin is also dicker for a three or four game trip in the South during spring vacation.

INSC to appear here next season

Illinois Northern State Teachers College has been added to the Omaha University 1949 football schedule.

Athletic Director Virg Yelkin in making the announcement said that the Illinois Teachers' club has one of the strongest teams in that state's Intercollegiate conference.

The Huskies have won the conference championship four times. They won their last title in 1946. Last season the Huskies defeated Washburn, also an OU opponent last season, 30-26. Omaha beat the Ichabods, 20-19.

The sports bible shows that the Illinois school also turns out strong basketball and track teams. However, no arrangement has been made to meet in any sport other than football.

Next season's game is to be played here October 1. Coach Lloyd Cardwell will take the Indian eleven to Dekalb for a return engagement in 1950.

Morrison's team missing two vets

With their long awaited second match nearly in sight, OU's mat team received a severe blow last week with the loss of two first team grapplers and the probable loss of a third.

Joe Vacanti, 135, and Sam Kais, 155, veteran grapplers of long standing, have found it necessary to drop the mat sport in order to keep up their studies.

Rich Holst, 128, is nursing bad shoulders and may not be able to compete for a long time.

Nothing Signed According to Virgil Yelkin, athletic director, arrangements have been made for a match with St. Ambrose; but no contracts have been signed as yet, thus making it still tentative.

The squad has been working and conditioning the past week in order not to be caught "out of condition" again as in the A&M match.

In the heavyweight division, a newcomer, Russ Lindeman, is giving Henry Strimple plenty of competition. Rene Hlavac and Howard Byram are also making strong bids for the berth.

Homeless Indians after ninth win

By John Duncan
Gateway Sports Editor

Coach Don Pflasterer's "Homeless Indians" will try their luck against a strong Northwest Missouri Teachers College in the Tech gym tonight at 8.

After two straight defeats, the Red and Black's coach may revise his starting lineup for tonight's tilt. Substitute Don Fisher and newcomer Ralph Pettit have shown promise in recent outings.

Mainstays Joe Arenas, Guy Oberg and Don Fitch will probably stick in the first five. At present, Fitch is by far the most improved player on the club and is also the best hustler.

Good Record

Coach Ryland Milner's Maryville, Mo., quintet comes to Omaha with a fairly impressive record behind them. They opened their season against Nebraska U and lost only 59-39.

This season the Teachers own victories over North Texas State, Western North Carolina, St. Benedict's (twice), Phillips U, Baker and Central Mo. The last named team defeated Omaha, 61-42, earlier in the season.

Tall Team

The Indians have fared poorly against taller clubs this year and they will be meeting a comparatively tall team tonight. Maryville's first five men average well over 6 feet.

Four of the starting five are returning regulars from last season and one is from the 1945 starting quint.

Center Al Henningson has been the top man as far as scoring is concerned this season. Al, who is 6-ft. 5-in. tall, scored nine points against the Huskers.

Probable starting lineups are:

Schmidt	F	Scott
Fitch	F	Younger
Oberg	C	Henningson
Arenas	C	Jones
Flecky	G	Cendlenski

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Spring fashions invade OU in colorful show tomorrow

From lounging pajamas to formal—everything gets in the act at the Intersorority Style Show Wednesday afternoon.

The show will take place in the auditorium from 4 to 6. All university women students are invited.

Five girls from each sorority will model the spring fashions. Background music will be provided by Donna Roessig and Diana Fielding with Dolores Hughes as narrator. The Phi Sig quartette will handle intermission entertainment.

Guests will be seated at small tables. Members of the sororities will serve and Valentine decorations will be used.

The Intersorority Council, sponsor of the show, is divided into five committees. Committee chairmen are Beverly Bush, music; Pat Miles, publicity; Pat Hasch and Ruth Jorgensen, decorations.

The promenade used in past years will be replaced by a modernistic setting executed by Jack Adwers, building superintendent. Mildred Mann will handle special lighting effects.

Kappa dance given for Greeks Friday

The "Cupid's Beau" dance Friday was the Kappa's Valentine for all Greeks.

A red and white heart theme was used throughout the Fontenelle Ballroom. Red candles and favors filled with candy hearts decorated the tables.

Jack Swanson's orchestra played for the informal dance from 9 to midnight.

Faculty sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cardwell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gorr, Mrs. Catherine Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pflasterer.

Alice Ann Carlson wed to Jack Linn

Alice Ann Carlson was married to Jack Muir Linn Saturday evening at Augustana Lutheran Church. The Rev. F. H. Hanson performed the candlelight ceremony.

Doris Carlson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Vivien Smith, Jean Hagerman and Elmiria Nufer.

Richard H. Hansen was best man. Harlan Carlson, Arthur W. McAnany and Robert D. Riggs ushered.

The couple attended the university. Miss Carlson was affiliated with Sigma Chi Omicron and her groom was a member of Theta Phi Delta.

Sorority rush dates are underway now

Twenty girls have signed up for second semester sorority rushing.

This was revealed at the last Intersorority Council meeting held Friday afternoon. Deadline for signing was 3 p. m. Friday.

Rush parties are scheduled from Feb. 14 to Feb. 25. Silent days will be from midnight to Feb. 25 to 1 p. m. Feb. 28. Rushes will sign preference cards in the Dean of Students Office Feb. 28 until 1 p. m.

Rush dates will be individual parties of four rushees and four sorority girls.

False alarm made 'sweet' to pledges

Told to bring syrup, corn starch, sugar and vinegar to their pot luck supper February 9, Phi Delta pledges expected informal initiation.

The ingredients were not for a shampoo, however, but for taffy. There will be no informal initiation.

The supper was given by pledges for actives at the home of Pat Hasch.

A song committee for Greek Week was selected. Members are Barbara Comstock, Eileen Duncomb, and Suzanne Nelson.

Duncan delights at Feierman's fancies

Many's the teacher who's mimicked by students behind his back. But Feb. 7 a professor was aped to his face—and he laughed.

It was all in fun at the Omaha Symphony Orchestra party as student Jack Feierman portrayed Richard Duncan, assistant professor of music and symphony director.

Feierman was equipped with black wig and moustache, glasses, and full dress suit. With Duncan-like mannerisms and expressions, he directed a six-piece "orchestra." Playing cymbals in the group was university student, Ted Frazeur.

Another target of gentle kidding was music critic Martin W. Bush, head of the university Music Department.

Several OU students cashed in on door prizes. Bill Fitzsimmons won a long-playing record attachment. Other winners were Dick Buhl; Ted Frazeur and June Garrels, secretary in the Education Department.
